FOREWORD

Monte Cassino has striven to represent the highest ideals in Christian education for young women.

Christian education aims toward an integrated life, a developing of the whole person, from earliest youth through young womanhood into maturity.

The ideal Christian woman accepts the challenge which the twentieth century offers her. Placing her trust in God she staunchly clings to Catholic principles and faces the problems of restoring a true Christian order to every day life.

DEDICATION

*To the Benedictine Sisters of Oklahoma we gratefully dedicate this yearbook. Starting in the pioneer stages of Oklahoma's history the Benedictines first came to this state in 1889 and have been working in the noble field of education
down to the present day.*

Mother M. Rita, O.S.B., present superior of the Benedictine Sisters in Oklahoma, has for the past six years supported the policy of education at Monte Cassino.

Mother M. Mechtilde, O.S.B. founded Monte Cassino in 1925 and supervised the erection of the school building. At the close of the first school year 1926-1927, Mother was called to her eternal reward.

Mother M. Agnes, O.S.B., former superior of the Benedictines, 1927-1945, directed the erection of the residence hall at Monte Cassino in 1927. She later served a three-year term as superior of Monte Cassino (1946-1949). At present Mother M. Agnes is at the head of a new community of Benedictines at Benet Lake, Wisconsin.

IN GRATITUDE

There can never be a greater goal than to live up to the high ideals of Christian thinking and living that have been put before us throughout our years at Monte Cassino.

Realizing that the Sisters of St. Benedict have poured forth their tireless efforts in teaching the true duties of a well-rounded Christian woman, we, the Seniors, can only hope that we will forever keep in mind the wonderful and thorough school training we have received.

In years to come may these pages of the 1951 Ariel remind us and all Monte Cassino girls not only of good times and spirit of friendship of our school days, but also and especially of the high standards that, under God, we must maintain during our lives.

Melissa Marsh

SENIORS

"Not finished -- Just begun"

Dianne Hudson, Patsy Jo Heim, Mary Esther McEvoy, Joan Francis, Mildred Flusche, Margaret Avery, Audra Wisdom, and Melissa Marsh walk happily along. They leave Monte Cassino having spent all four of their high school years here

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayo E. McKeown came to Monte Cassino in her sophomore year. Pat's abilities are many; she makes "A" grades as easily as she sinks a "basket" for her team or bakes brownies for the evening "get-together". Her gentle but firm leadership is recognized by all. A keen logical mind coupled with adherence to Catholic principals tend to make Pat an ideal girl.

Ideal: A perfect mother

Melissa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Marsh, entered M. C. as a freshman. Melissa can do almost anything without apparent effort. Her interest in people and their problems accounts for her popularity on all occasions. Gay yet sincere, and a "Daniel" for justice Melissa is everyone's friend. A clever organizer she lines up people and affairs in the twinkle of an eye.

Ideal: A life devoted to service

Melissa and Pat prepare for a leaders meeting

Margaret Bennet, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Avery and the late Mr. Avery has answered roll call for six years here. A fine mind, a remarkable artistic talent, a love of literature, an ace baseball player are a few of her assets. Add to these a dry humor and the tact to make the most of a bad situation and the total spells "Margaret".

Ideal: "Truth and beauty in art."

Mildred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Flusche, Muskogee, entered M. C. as a Freshmen. Serious and quiet yet friendly to all, Mildred ranks tops scholastically and athletically. She goes earnestly about her daily life undisturbed by excitement or confusion and looks ahead to a nursing degree.

Ideal: The truly Christian nurse

Margaret and Mildred work out a Chemistry experiment

Mary Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Francis of Pampa, Texas, matriculated her freshmen year and has a four year honor roll record. She sings and devotes time to extra curricular activities. Unusually different Joan has a helping word and hand for everyone. She is feminine from head to toe even to the proverbial tardiness.

Ideal: A Christian mentality

Patsy Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Heim, has attended M. C. six years. Patsy is the diminutive member of the class. With a winning personality this talkative Miss, despite her size, can hold her own in any argument. Elected queen Patsy reigned over the 1951 Mardi Gras festivities.

Ideal: True Christian Marriage

Joan and Patsy Jo look over the score for Glee Club

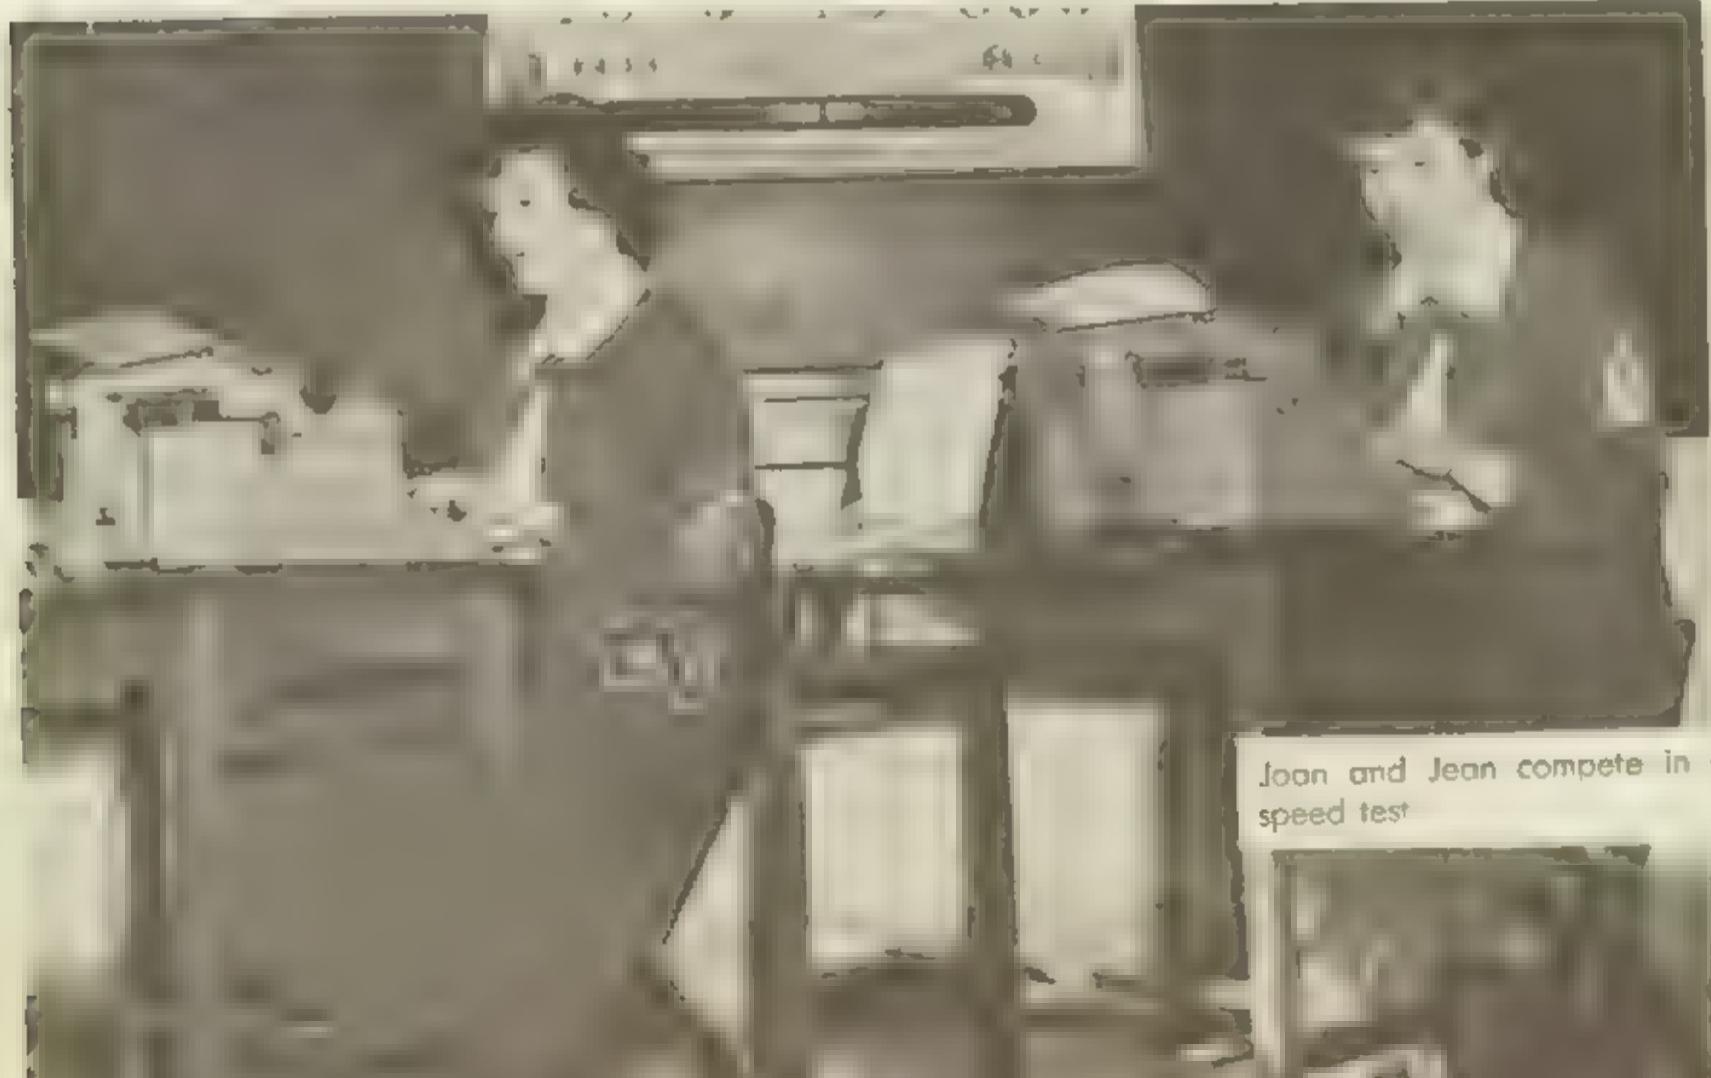

Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Hardman, has displayed her humor and wit for three years. Her ability to pass tests one way or another and to bring home the loaded bases has amazed us. At swimming, ice skating, and horseback riding, she is no less than superior. A personality of good nature and quick temper are evenly blended in this twin.

Ideal: A Christian Woman

Joan, Jean's twin sister, is an industrious student with a pleasant friendly way. Consideration and thoughtfulness for others are characteristic of this even tempered lass. In school Joan enjoys typing; outside of school she enjoys ball games, picnics, ice skating and lazy Sunday afternoons.

Ideal: A Christian Mother

Joann and Jean compete in a Typing speed test

Diane Melinda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Hudson has distinguished herself by her dramatic talent. Leisure time finds her busy at creative writing or sketching. The warmth of Diane's personality and radiant smile adds zest to any party; her conversations sparkle with humor and wit. Her French accent is the amazement of all her teachers even Father Chojecki.

Ideal: (Christian womanhood)

Barbara Jane, daughter of Mrs. George Limerick and the late Mr. Limerick, came to Monte Cassino four years ago. Her bubbling and friendly manner is a sincere expression of her warm, generous heart. Farming is Barbara's main interest; some day she will own a farm where the ripe yellow Grade A wheat will not be half so "Grade A" as Barbara's personality.

Ideal: "My Father", Mr. George Limerick

Barbara and Diane rehearse their lines for Dramatics Class

Janet Mallory, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Jung, came to M. C. in her Sophomore year. The ability to organize and see a task to the finish has won her many honors. Janet's good voice warranted her being selected to sing with the National Chorus in Cleveland, Ohio, this year. Her interest and tact in helping others have brought her friends galore.

Ideal: Helping others in Social Work.

Ruth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Murray is proud of her two years at M. C. A champion of right, Ruth Ann with tongue or pen rushes to the defence of each and everyone. Also a champion in sports this spectacular player has won tennis and ping-pong matches. A scholar champion too, Ruth Ann holds many a scholastic trophy and is the editor of the school paper. Ideal: "To live according to first principals."

"He who does not believe in TRUTH
when he knows it,
TRUTH makes
himself an accomplice
of liars and forgers."

Janet and Ruth Ann proof-read the Ariel copy

Mary Esther, Daughter of Mrs. W. Basil McEvoy and the late Mr. McEvoy, has been a joy to her teachers and friends in her eleven years at M. C. Efficiency describes her! She collects money, organizes committees, plans parties, arranges programs with ease and finesse. This diligent student has a rare sense of humor that will keep her chuckling and happy through life.

Ideal:

"My Mother" Mrs. W. Basil

Betty Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. O'Connor, has attended M. C. eight years. An outdoor girl, Betty Jo excels in sports with many laurels to her name. When at the helm Betty Jo needs no assistance. She is friendly and genuine; her strong will and pertinacity rightly directed will accomplish great tasks.

Ideal: St. Elizabeth

Betty Jo, refereeing, checks with score-keeper, Mary Esther

Ramona Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Page, has attended Monte Cassino her senior year. Ramona's main interest is art, but she is equally talented in creative writing. These talents plus charm and sweetness make Ramona a delightful personality. She is just the type of person you like to have around.

Ideal: True Art

Mary Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Swan, came to M. C. her Junior year. Claire draws and writes cleverly; she can act and has a wit that cures her worries. Reserved and quiet Claire is a penetrating thinker who acts with the courage of her convictions. If you don't mind waiting, Claire may set the world on fire.

Ideal: Christian Womanliness

Audra, Claire and Ramona are intent on the projects in Christian Social Living Class

Audra Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wisdom, Aztec, New Mexico, is petite in size, witty in conversation, versatile in ability. A splendid imitator Audra steals the show whether it be a comedy or tragedy. Basketball opponents sink few baskets when Audra plays guard. Her "A" grades are many with French her favorite subject.

Ideal: "To be a success!"

CLASSES

At Monte Cassino, all class work is infused with the Benedictine ideal of family life aimed toward developing a well-rounded Christian personality. The integration of classes and ideals plays a definite role in the flourishing of true womanhood. Based on the principle of "first things first," the students pray, study, and play together as an ideal Christian family.

MUSIC

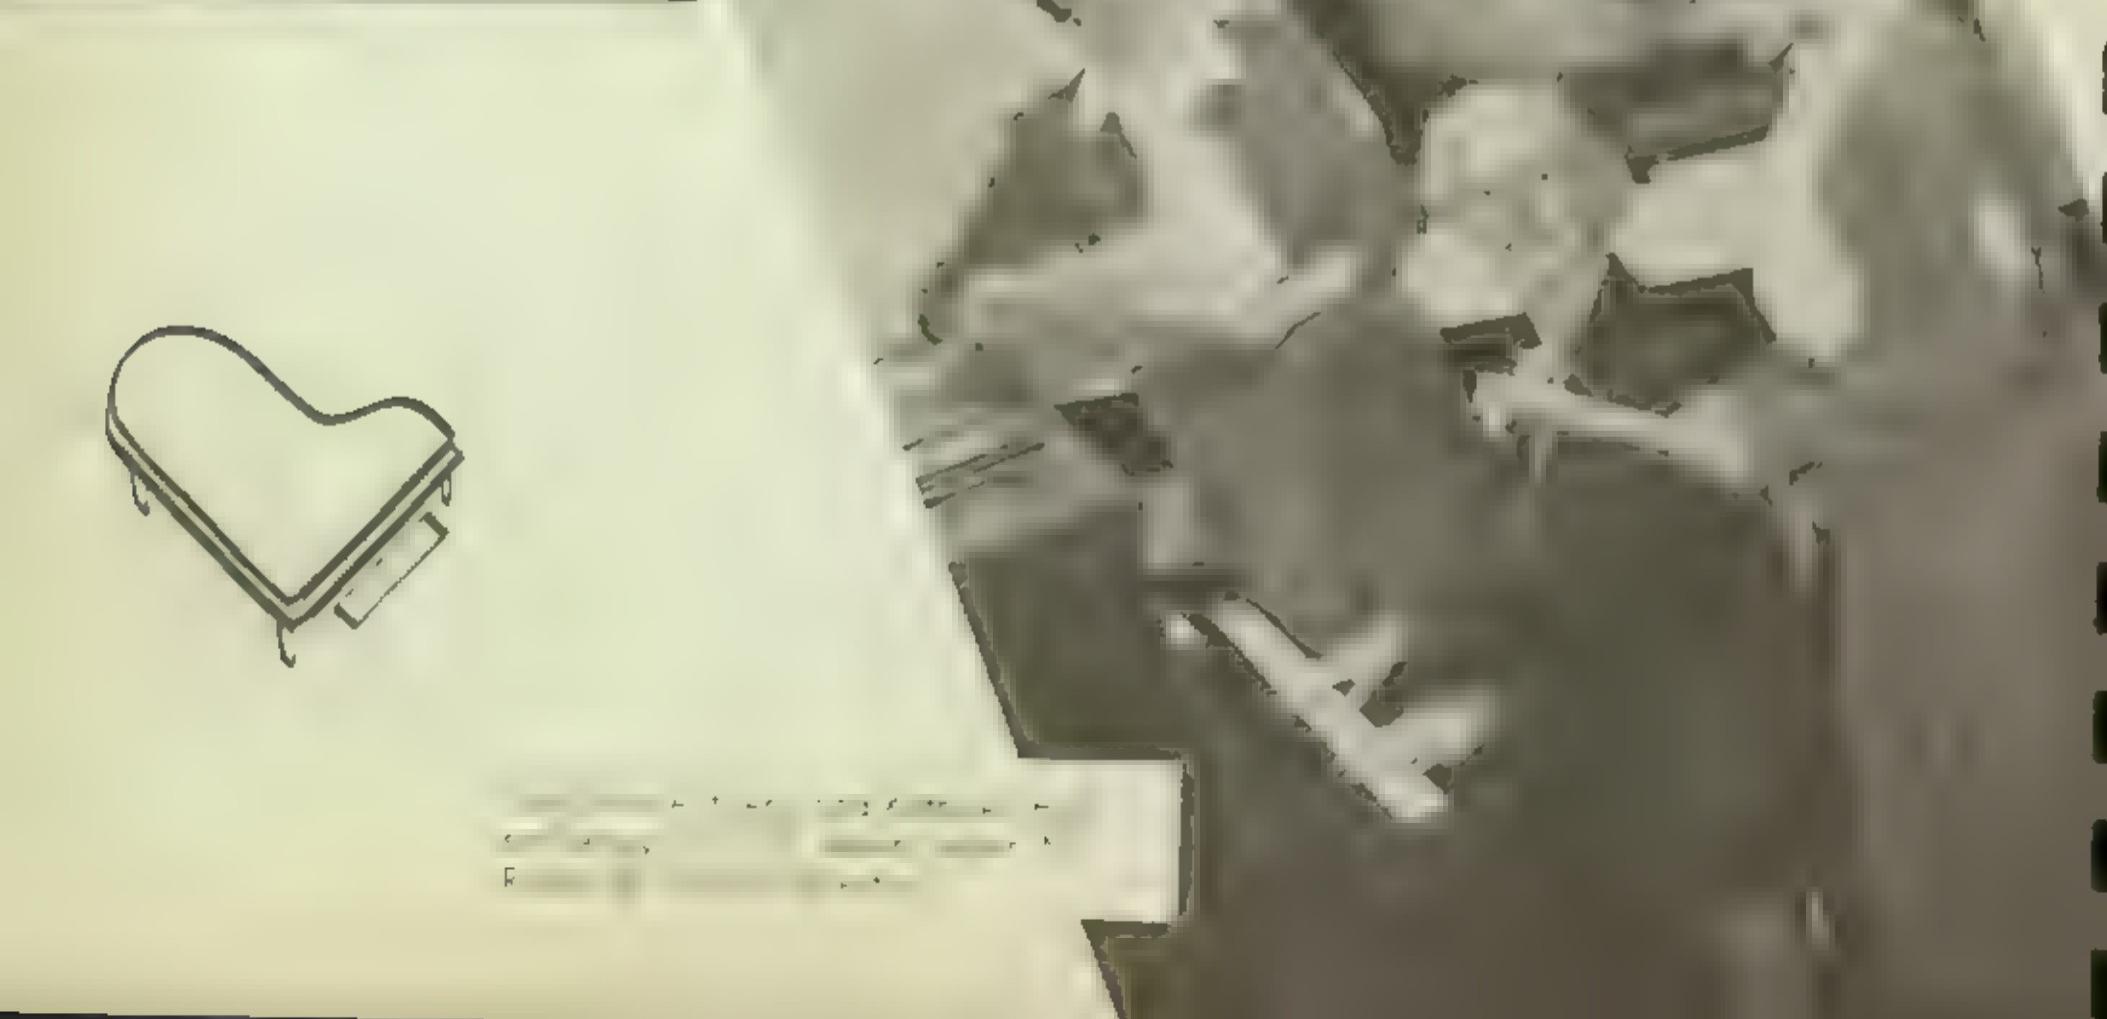

The music program at M. C. aims toward the ideal of teaching each student to praise God in the sung prayer of the church, Gregorian Chant, and to prepare each for an intelligent understanding and enjoyment of all music in performance and listening.

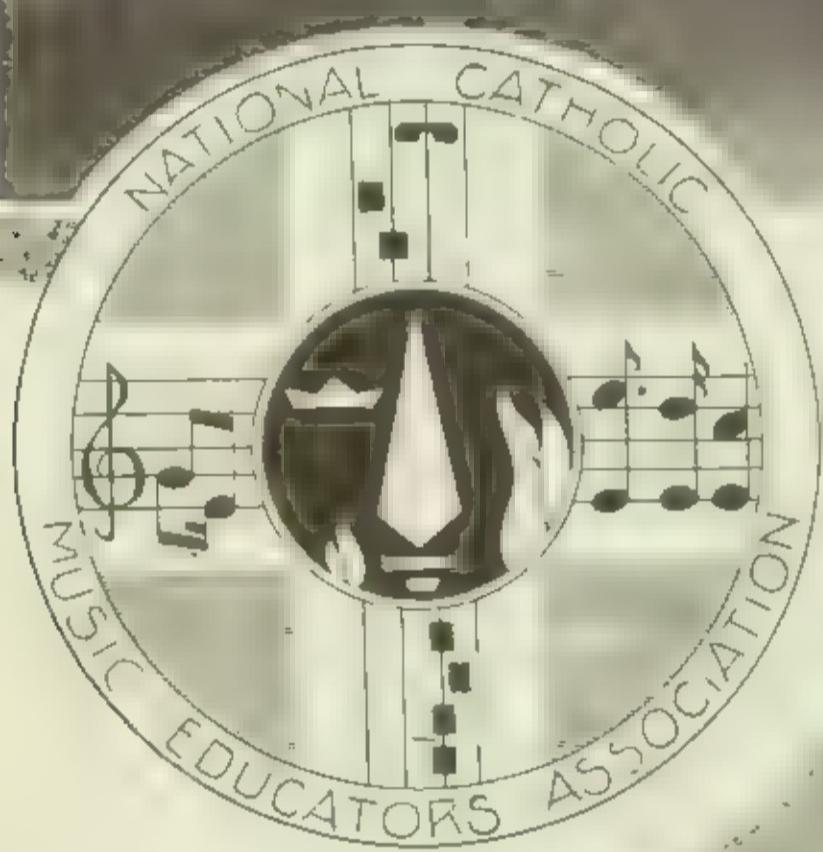

The Chant Class presents a program for the Parents' Council based on the scriptural text of the Valiant woman.

THROUGH THE CHURCH YEAR

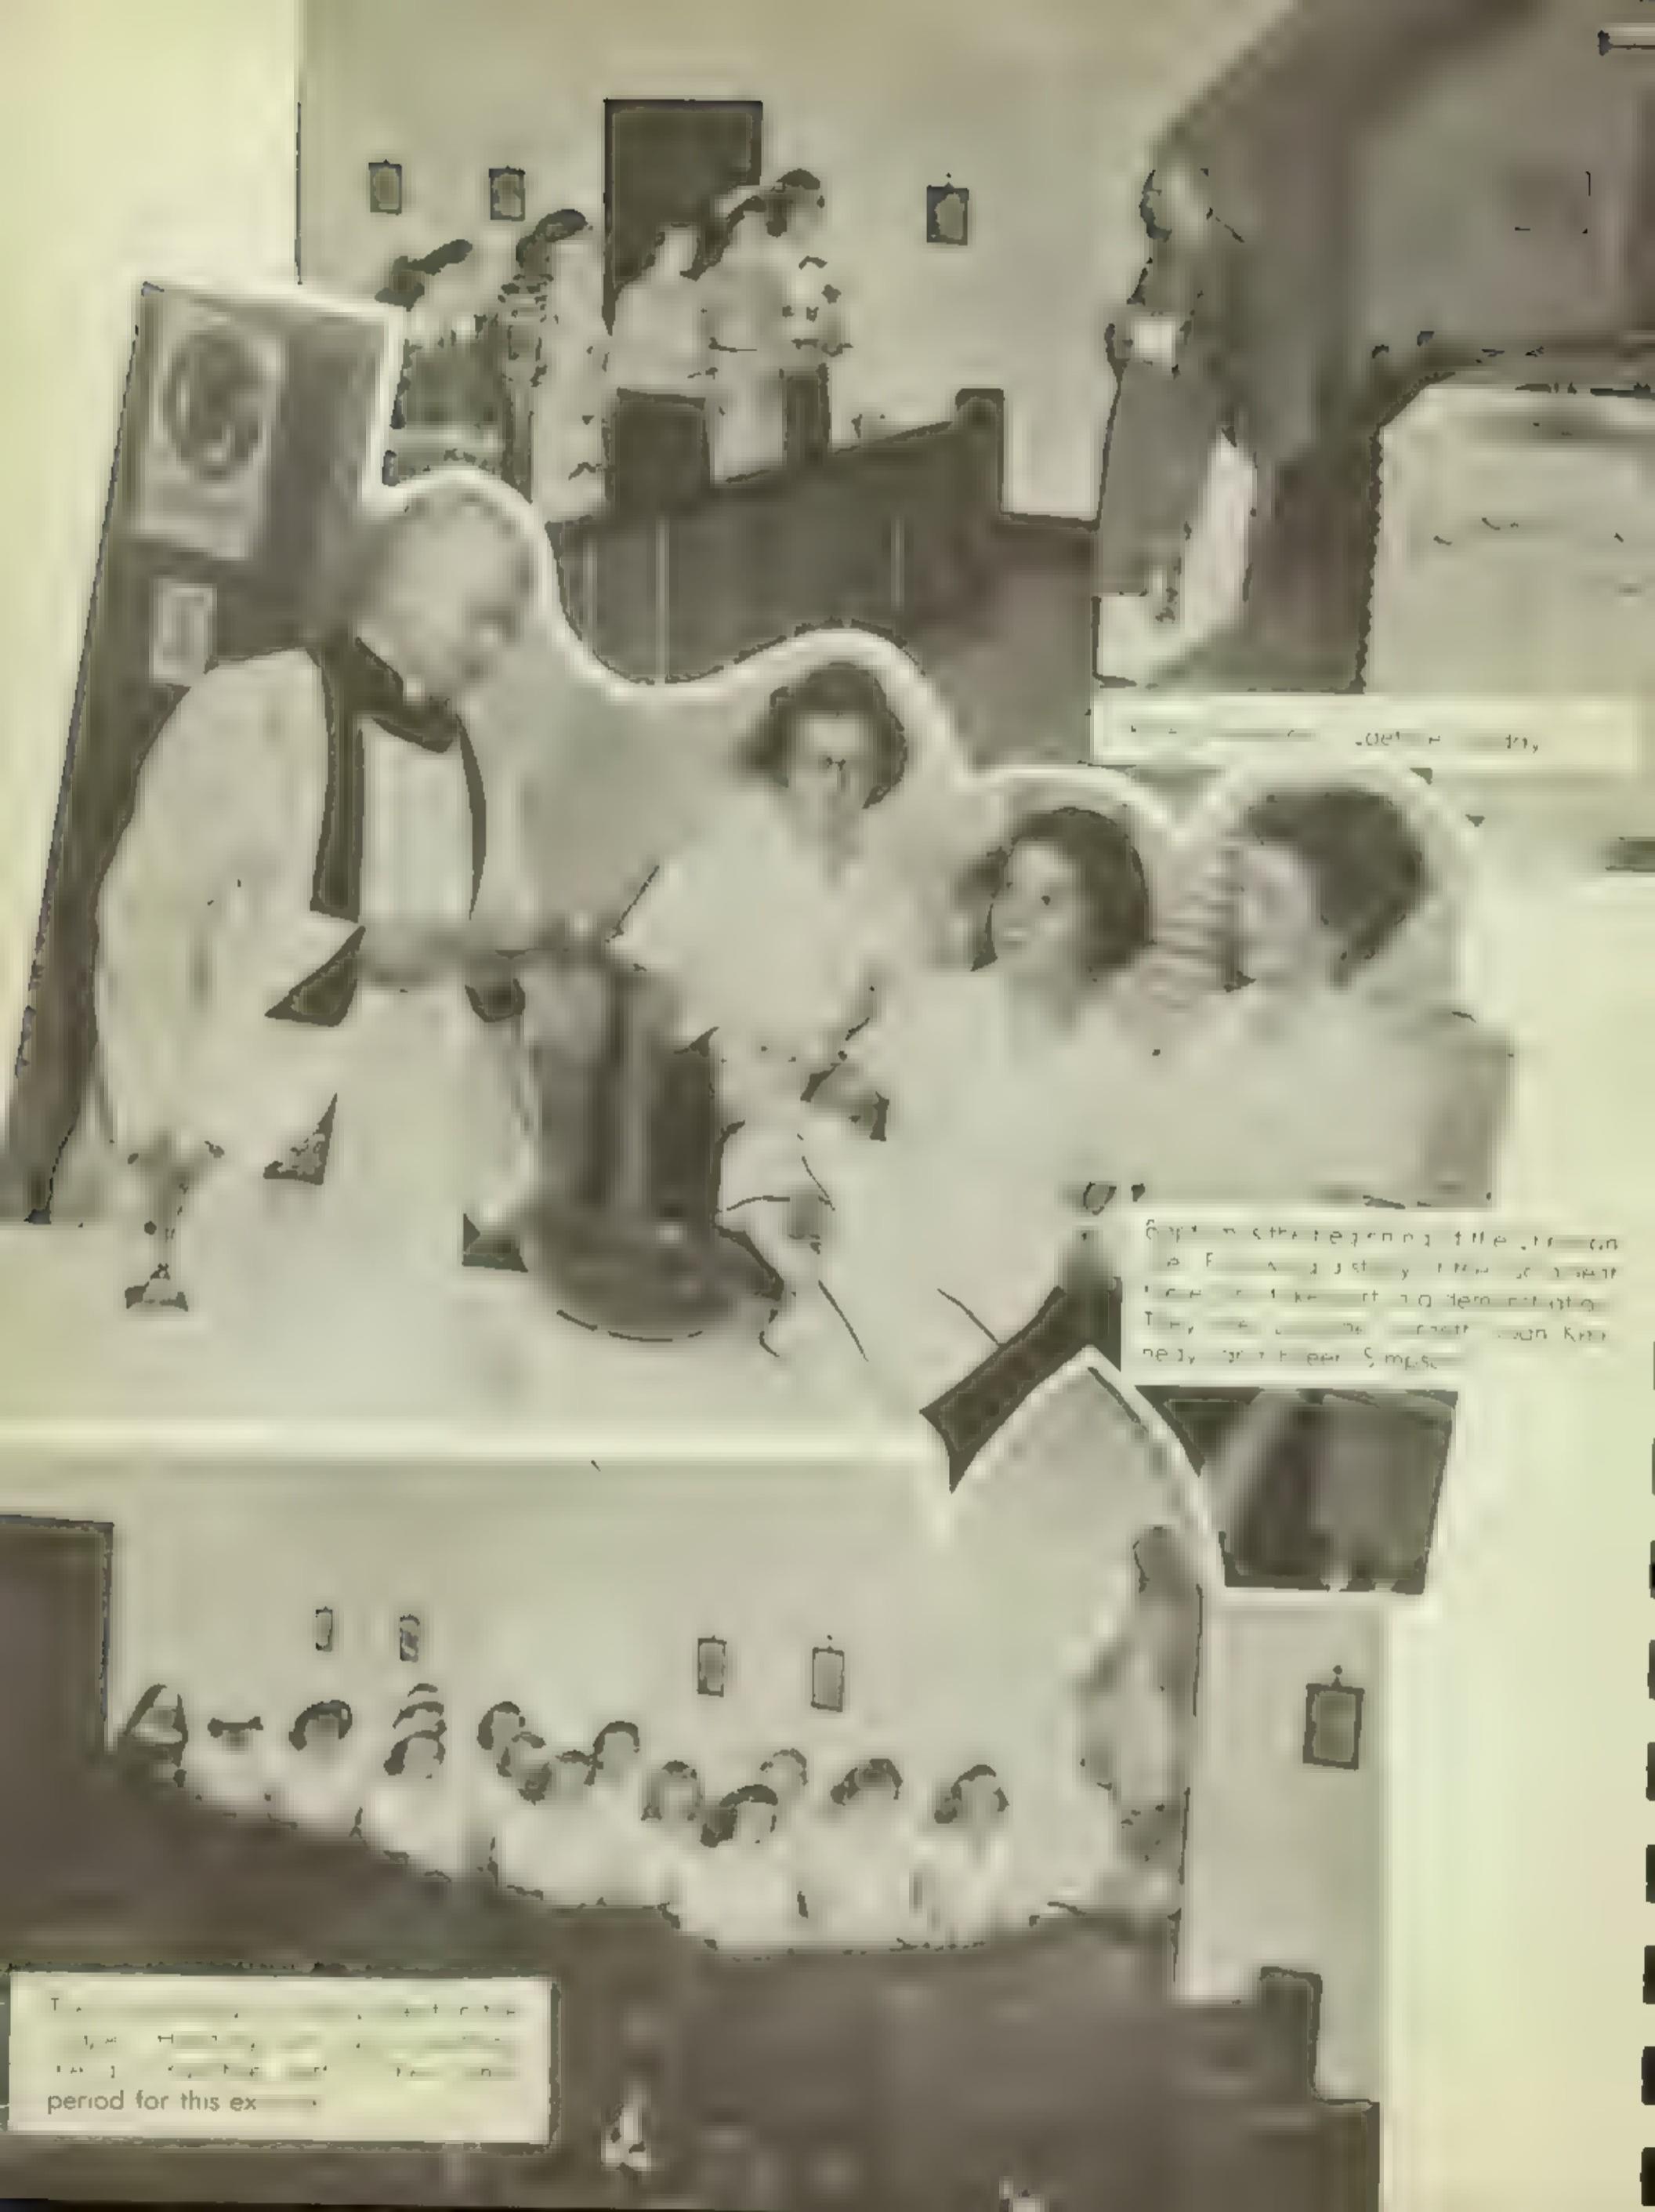

The ideal Christian life is that which has its source in the Liturgy, the life of the Church. At M. C. this is made possible by the active participation in the Holy Sacrifice either in a dialogue or sung Mass and by the seasonal study of the Liturgy and Chant.

Mindful of their obligation as true Christians the girls go forth from the altar endeavoring to "live the Mass" and thus fulfill the admonition of Christ, "So let your light shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in Heaven." (Matt 5:16)
